

Anthropology 148: Winter 2011

GLOBAL HEALTH / CULTURAL DIVERSITY

Tuesdays & Thursdays 9:30-10:50am

Peterson Hall 102

Professor Janis Jenkins,

Dept of Anthropology

jhjenkins@ucsd.edu

For more information about the GH Minor, please visit: <http://roosevelt.ucsd.edu/global-health>

Introduction to global health from the perspective of medical anthropology: distinction between disease and illness, cultural shaping of illness experience, conceptions of health, doctor-patient interaction, medical science and technology, mental health, infectious disease, and health care inequalities by ethnicity, gender & economic position.